Harriet Adams Stephens, one of the Princeton Community's most dedicated citizens, who over the past decade has literally given 1000's of hours to the far-reaching program sustained by the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League. It was ten years ago this month that a group of five Princeton women, led by Mrs. Stephens and the League's beloved co-founder, the late Miss Emily Myrick, launched the organization's first membership drive. Today, on the threshold of the nationally proclaimed "Be Kind to Animals Week", the League's membership numbers more than 250 Princetonians.

In the post-World War II years, as the nature of the Princeton area was changing from semi-rural to semi-urban, Mrs. Stephens and Miss Myrick were perturbed by the plight of the many lost, abandoned and injured animals found in the Borough and Township. Determining that unorganized volunteers could not cope with a growing problem, they advocated the establishment of an animal shelter, a facility previously sought by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Their proposal won the support of the late Perry MacKay Sturges, then Mayor of the Borough, and Dr. Russell S. Edmonds, who offered the services of his Lawrence Hospital for Animals at reduced rates.

The leadership provided by Mrs. Stephens and Miss Myrick, aided by the other founding officers of the League, Mrs. Sturges, Mrs. Hamilton Cottier and Mrs. Albridge C. Smith 3d, moved mounds of apathy. The SPCA disbanded, turning its remaining funds over to the new League, and Mrs. Stephens, appearing before Mayor and Council, argued her case so effectively that Borough agreed to make a limited annual appropriation towards the cost of caring for stray animals found within municipal limits. Four years later (1955) Princeton Township followed the Borough's example in extending support to the quasi-official services offered by the League.

The League, which each year cares for some 300 stray and injured animals, is understandably proud of its adoption program that makes every effort to place unclaimed pets in good homes. Once an animal has been held in the shelter for seven days (the legal limit), Mrs. Stephens and her associates, notably Mrs. Ailery C. Graves, Executive Secretary, who has brought about as many as six "pet-owner reunions" in a single day, swing into action. Their record for March, 1961, is indicative: of a total of 20 animals brought to the Lawrence Hospital seven were returned to their owners and 12 were adopted, a 95% average!

Minnesota-born, and the wife of a retired member of Princeton University's administrative staff, Mrs. Stephens has been a Princetonian since 1935. As interested as she is in other activities, including the Stony Brook Garden Club, her first concern is for her volunteer duties as League president. For instance, her dog is a 9-year old black poodle, Gamin, whom, she recalls, "was brought to the shelter when he was about a year old. He was sick, half-starved and had obviously been beaten." Watching Gamin bounce around her Staatworth apartment, Mrs. Stephens reminisces: "It's a tremendous satisfaction to bring a dog like that back to health and a sense of security."

For assuming prime responsibility for humane work which is vitally important in the pell-mell rush of modern-day Princeton; for minimizing her own contributions to the development of a distinctive community "institution"; she is—at the risk of incurring her extreme displeasure—Town Topics' nominee for

The chief speakers of the three-hour session were witnesses called by Mr. Dietz, David Popper, city planner with the University of Pennsylvania, presented a 14-page statement explaining why he did not consider the area subject to a "blight" determination.

He contended that the two blocks in question did not form a unit, that the northern block met the "blight" definition and the southern block did not, and he suggested that the main purpose for combining the two blocks must be some reason other than blight, a reason "purpose has not been demonstrated to be clearly in the public interest."

Countering the house-by-house report by Edmund Cooley at the first hearing, Mr. Dietz presented a house-by-house report by Morton S. Kline, real estate appraiser.

Mr. Kline said he found properties fronting on Witherspoon between Jackson and Hulfish in excellent condition. He also said that properties on the north side of Jackson had, in his opinion, been neglected, but that neither the engineer nor the Borough Health department had ever issued condemnations to the owner.

University of Pennsylvania, said Mr. Popper, contrasted the condition of the Hulfish-Jackson block with the Jackson-Green block. He said, of the former, that he had seldom seen an area less blighted. He said he believed that Jackson was an appropriate street to choose for a parallel route to Nassau, but said he felt that the Board should consider the "social cost" of selecting that

Mr. Dietz read into the record the portion of the Borough building code which requires the building inspector to enforce the code and provides fines and penalties for property owners who do not comply. He also introduced into the record a Borough ordinance providing for the repair, closing or demolition of dwellings unfit for habitation, and the housing portion of the Borough Board of Health's sanitary code.

Person To Person

We heard an argument about superlatives, with one side saying that no enlightened person believes in such nonsense, and the other side offering examples of intelligent people whose actions tend to prove the opposite to be true. One rather cited his catfish and trout, who always knocks wood, and explains, "I'm not superstitious, but I don't want to take any chances. Another of the missile engineer who takes off his shoes as a good omen to help the last part of a shoot countdown, and another who always wears cowboy clothes on the day of a shoot, out for good luck. Then someone cited a quote written by Tracy Edwards about a hundred years ago: "Superstitions are for the most part, but the shadows of great truths." Well, all we can say is that you'll never have to knock wood, nor even cross your fingers when you deal with us. See us soon, please?

ROUND-UP

May madness hit the University campus a little earlier than expected. Saturday night when a group of about 500 students moved from the campus to the Ball Field, the railroad station where a "dinky" window was broken and a rock thrown on the tracks. University rioters and police broke up the mob with no arrests... objection to the University's "halfway" measures in granting a later curfew on women in dormitory rooms was reportedly the cause of the occasional disturbance.

On a more erudite level, Harvard students were rioting last week against the change in language on their diplomas from Latin to English.

Three youngsters were involved in accidents last week—the four-year-old son of Mrs. Vaughan Knowlton of Old Bridge who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kenan of 50 Southern Way, was pinned under the rear wheel of his mother's car, parked in the Kantland driveway...whether the emergency brake slipped or was released is not known. The child was treated at Princeton Hospital and released with no apparent internal injuries.

Frederick Hillard, 4, of 13 Bank Street was knocked down Monday on Bank by a car driven by Robert E. Simpson, 23. Mr. Simpson took the boy to his home in Cranbury where he was examined by Dr. Peter F. Dhillman, who found minor bruises.

Police reported James Tkacs, 7, of 252 North Harrison Street, turned his bicycle into the path of a car driven by John Ott, 18, of Hackettstown, on North Harrison...after stopping to ask if young Tkacs was uninjured, Mr. Ott drove away...he has been charged with leaving the scene of an accident...his license number was obtained by James Lackey, 12, of 222 North Harrison...the Tkacs boy sustained abrasions.

In other accidents, Miss Elizabeth M. Patko, 18, of Rocky Hill, veered right while driving a Flower Basket station wagon on Witherspoon, hit the parked car of Steven Hinds of 21 Lytle...the following chain involved cars belonging to Dr. S. Robert Lewis of 73 Wilson Road, Miss Ermeline Gaskins of Route 206, and Charles J. Tius of Ann Arbor, Mich.

A Nassau News truck driven by Louis Lucarelli of 1021 Leigh Avenue...the truck was parked car of William Barnes, 26, of 221 Marshall...last Wednesday, and then the building itself...the truck veered left when Lucarelli reached out to catch blowing papers. While Fred Goldsborough of 99 Einstein Drive was away from his car parked near 55 John last Wednesday, the car tires were slashed to the tune of $105.

ROAD PLAN APPROVED

By Township Committee. After several months of discussion and re-drafting, Township Committee approved Monday night its construction and reconstruction plan for new and old Township roads. Highlights of the new policy:

- Paved public streets. Property owners will not be assessed for paving improvements, but will for sidewalks. Curbs are considered part of "paving." If a public street has never been paved, the Township will pay one-third, the property owners two-thirds. Sidewalks installed for public need will be paid for 60-50 by Township and property owners.

- Private streets. If they are not improved according to Township standards, Committee will accept them and improve them only if it's in the public interest to do so, and will pay one-third of the cost, the property owners paying the other two-thirds. If at least half of the owners along a street and the owners of at least half of the front footage petition the Township to take over and pave a street, the Township will do so, assessing the owners for the entire cost.

- Developments. The developer must complete improvements before the streets are accepted. If the developer defaults, the proceeds from his bond will be used to pay for the roads and the balance, if any will be assessed to property owners. (Committee said that bonds are now required to be large enough to cover such contingencies as inflation, and so on.) Committee hopes that the Planning Board will shortly require a developer to put in all improvements before a building permit is issued. Committeeman J. John S. Mount protested the adoption of the policy, saying that capital improvements increased taxes and that he thought property owners should bear the whole burden of road improvement. He proposed an amendment to this effect, but no one seconded his motion.

Committee passed, after public hearing, the ordinance to improve (widen, curb, sidewalk) Franklin Avenue, amending the ordinance following adoption of the road policy to make it clear that curbs were included in road improvement, and that the Franklin Avenue residents would not have to pay for anything except half of the sidewalks. The amended ordinance will again be up for public hearing. The date: May 22.

Committee accepted the assessors' reports on several sewers and one sidewalk: the Mountain Avenue, Witherpoon, Riverside Drive West and second Prospect Avenue sewers and the Prospect Avenue sidewalk.

Assessments for "potential future use" were challenged by two residents concerned. Mrs. Gordon Knox, Mountain Avenue, told Committee that she already had a sewer on one side of her property and did not need another. Township attorney Gordon Griffin told her that the new sewer, which is on the other side increased the value of her property, and that this increase did not depend upon present owner's plans for the land, but on the market value of the property.

Henry Schmidt, owner of the former Shelton Motor building on Witherpoon, also protested. He was assessed for two

CRASH IS FATAL

To Playhouse Employee. William A. Oliver, 26, Kingston, was fatally injured early Saturday morning when his car smashed into a utility pole on Main Street in Lawrenceville. Oliver, an usher at the Princeton Hospital, died in Helene Fuld Hospital, Trenton, 15 hours after the accident.

Miss Trueman Boone, 26, 116 Leigh Avenue, Oliver's companion in the car at the time of the accident, is in serious condition at the Trenton hospital. She is an employee of the Princeton Seminary cafeteria.

Oliver was given several transfusions before his death from a fractured pelvis and ruptured bladder. Lawrence Township police said that his car was heading south when it crossed the center line of the wet road and crashed into the pole near the junction of Monroe Avenue and Lawrence Road.

Surviving are Oliver's wife, Mrs. Dolores Oliver; a daughter, Marjorie; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Oliver of Princeton and two sisters, Mrs. Marceline Yates of Princeton and Mrs. Barbara Williams of Trenton.

Services were held Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. Dr. William T. Parker officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Anderson Funeral Service.

DRIVER LOSTS LICENSE

Leaves Accident Scene. In traffic court, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr. revoked for 60 days the driver's license of Cecelia P. Pinelli, 21, of 488 N. Harrison Street, for leaving the scene of an accident. Pinelli, who pleaded not guilty, was also fined $30. Bernard Rosenblad, 18, of 7 Berenstone Road and Ernest C. Moran, 17, of Blawenburg Road, Skillman, each pleaded guilty to charges of careless driving. Rosenblad was fined $10 and had his license revoked for 30 days; Moran was fined $30.

In other cases, Rabah Shubbeader, 36, of 107 Autumn Hill Road was fined $18, speeding and Gerald L. Carlson, 38, of 82 Harris Road, $15, following too close. Shubbeader denied the speeding offense.

In criminal court Mrs. Ella Riddick, 66, of 12 Quarry Street was fined $35 for assault and battery. Mrs. Pearl Dushelle, same address, was also fined $35 for using offensive and abusive language. Mrs. Dushelle was the complainant against Mrs. Riddick and vice-versa. Both pleaded not guilty.

News Of The THEATRES

"MIKADO" TO OPEN
This Thursday, "The Savoyards" presentation of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado" will open this Thursday evening at 8:30 in McCarter, with additional evening performances scheduled for Friday and Saturday. There will be a Saturday matinee at 2:30.

Alfred Wade is stage director, with Vernon Boushelt handling the musical direction. Lawrence and Audrey Eisey are assisting in staging the production.

The leading role of Ko-Ko will be taken by Lee H. Bristol Jr. with Isley E. Pome playing Nanki-Poo. Mrs. Ruth Bent will take the part of Yum-Yum. Tickets for all four performances are available at the University Store and at the McCarter boxoffice prior to each performance.

THREE ON LADDERS

In Murray Theatre, American reading of modern American humor, titled "A Lass, Two Lads and Three Ladders," will be given at midnight this Friday and Saturday in Murray Theatre. Authors to be heard include J. D. Salinger, Dorothy Parker, Damon Runyon and Jules Feiffer.

The "lass" is Rob Coby, a student at Bryn Mawr. The two "Lads" are Jeffrey Moss and William Harman. All three will be perched on ladders, the sole props.

'LA RONDE' PRESENTED

An Entertaining Farce, Theatre Intime's first production of its 40th anniversary season, Arthur Schnitzler's "La Ronde," manages to come off quite well in comparison to some of the earlier productions of the year. In fact, "La Ronde" may be one of Intime's most successful productions, at least from an acting standpoint.

The play consists of a round-robin seduction sequence, set in ten scenes. In the opening minutes, a prostitute seduces a soldier. The second scene finds the soldier seducing a parlor maid, and then the parlor maid becomes involved with a young gentleman. The play runs full cycle, through all levels of society, until, finally, a Count goes home with the prostitute of the opening scene.

Almost as intriguing as the play itself is the tendency of the audience to light matches and lighters between scenes to look at the program and determine who is next. The play is very effective, as characters from all social ranks comment identically on the "mere intoxication" of love, as presented by Schnitzler.

The acting, throughout the production, is maintained at a fast, light-hearted level. Happily, the elements of farce humor are exploited, and there is no

Triangle to the Coast

For the first time in its six decades of theatrical activity, the Princeton University Triangle Club will go to California on its annual Christmas tour.

Announcement was made this week that the club will present its 1961-62 musical in San Francisco and Los Angeles and possibly Santa Barbara. Another "first" will take place when the entire cast, chorus, orchestra, stage crew and scenery are flown to the Coast—from Omaha, Neb., on December 23.

In other years, the Triangle has performed throughout the south and as far away as Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas. The inclusion of California on the itinerary has been made, said club president Alexander S. Kennedy, "to correct a long injustice to the west."

attempt at intersecting a not of deep tragedy into a basically funny idea, a common trend in today's stage and movie fare. Special acting mention must go to Maria Tucci as the Actress, William Pierce as the Poet, and Edward Callanan as the Husband.

Technical Defects. Counterbalancing the acting, however, were several production difficulties which had not been ironed out even by the third performance. Mr. Pierce's lighting came on and off without purpose, occasionally illuminating stagehands, and music cues were missed twice. It would seem, too, that Intime's props are celebrating their 40th anniversary, for the couch and bed, which necessarily received a lot of use, looked as if they might collapse at any moment.

"La Ronde" is scheduled for 8:30 performances Wednesday through Saturday in Murray Theatre. Obviously designed for the University's Houseparties Weekend festivities, it stands, however, as an entertaining. If racy, small-theatre production.

Murray's portrayal of the hip-talking, crazy pastor is a neat job of character delineation, and the other members of the starless cast are equally effective.

Halfway House for redeemable lawbreakers — together, with his running battles with skeptical newsmen and law officers, make up the bulk of the film. His work with the ex-convicts is indicated through the evident characteristics of the film, which is a good vehicle for Murray's first starring role.

All Hands on Deck (May 7-9) is a morose service comedy starring Pat Boone, Buddy Hackett, Barbara Eden and Dennis O'Keefe. Boone, whose uniquely expressionless singing voice is matched by his wooden acting, is spoofed as a young officer who conducts a chaste affair with Miss Eden. Hackett is occasionally diverting as an obnoxious Indian who is incensed when the cowboys win in Westerns. The film is in CinemaScope and color.

This is one type of film usually deemed suitable for children, by which is meant that it will pervert nothing but their esthetic judgement. In any case, one has to be awfully young to think there is anything funny about a girl being secreted aboard ship during an official inspection.

THE GARDEN

The Big Deal on Madonna Street (May 2-6) is a delightful spoof of the type of precise crime film exemplified by "Prizzi's" Vittorio Gassman, Renato Salvatori, Totò and Marcello Mastroianni are featured in the highly professional, divertent funny script with evident relish. The film is in Italian with subtitles.

The big deal of the title is a carefully planned nocturnal snatching of an Italian pawnshop. The would-be criminals work carefully and studiously in planning the job, and their confidence in their scientific methods, together with the incredible burgling that turns the heist into a farce, makes for consistent good humor and occasional hilarity. Recommended.

Separate Tables (May 8), a 1958 release, is an impressive, if sometimes sentimental, enterprise. The screenplay, by Terence Rattigan and John Gay, preserves the power of Rattigan's well-received Broadway play while recounting the story of a group of young to middle-aged neurotics who have gathered in a dingy seaside hotel on England's south coast. Deborah Kerr, a sensitive woman dominated by her mother, shares a pitiful love with David Niven, an ex-British Army major who boasts of his family background and wartime exploits in an effort to mask his basic ineffectuality.

The hotel owner, Wendy Hillier, is infatuated with Burt Lancaster, who seeks therapy at a nearby pub for the scars of his marital breakup with Rita Hayworth. Lancaster is forced to come to grips with his problems when Miss Hayworth shows up with visions of reconciliation dancing in her head.

The standout portrayal is delivered by Niven. Lancaster is convincing as the sudden sufferer, and Miss Hayworth gives one of the better performances of her checkered career. Recommended.

Make Mine Mink (May 9-13), a satire of the intricate, sensuously satisfactory as "The Big Deal on Madonna Street," but it has the advantage of starring Terry-Thomas. Thomas (as twice decided that that's his last name, despite the hyphen) is a remarkably able comedian, whose most recent roles have included the personnel manager in "I'm All Right, Jack" and the pompous sportsman in "School for Scoundrels."

Thomas here plays an ex-acting major who is boarding in the London apartments owned by Athene Seyler. With the other paying guests, Thomas hits on the plan of stealing furs in order to support Miss Seyler's charitable enterprises. The careful plotting and personal success of the theft is entertaining, and several scenes in which the indefatigably upper-class Thomas is brought in contact with the denizens of the underworld are uproarious. The film is a bit loosely plotted, however, and Robert Asher's direction is occasionally slack. The musical score by Philip Green is excellent.

NEW SHOP IN TOWN

For Gifts, Accessories. At the new shop called The Money Tree at 262 Alexander Street, you can buy traditional crewel-work Indian embroidery or a diamond of Princeton tiger rug done in natural and black straw stripes. You may also buy certain kinds of merchandise that fall, say, in between.

But first, that tiger. To begin with, he is 4 x 6 feet in dimension. To proceed with, he also comes in zebra or leopard and he was made in Spain. To conclude, he is a rug without a head and would be very happy on a summer porch.

The crewel work may be had in several variations. Buy a superb bedspread with the classic pure wool embroidery done on a deep natural fabric for $80.

Or buy just enough to cover the seat of a chair or the overcase of a sizeable cushion. For $10 including unadorned fabric for the back. The wools are black and white or two colors of orange. If you'd like crewel by the yard, Money Tree will have a sample to order from.

A needlewoman closer to home has made the poncholon — little dyes of water-proof for little girls all dressed up and ready to go to a party in the rain. There is a circle of yellow, blue, pink or violet plastic lined with a matching print.

A slit in the middle of the circle accommodates the head, and a hood attached to the side of the slit protects the hairdo from rain. There's even a little pocket. The same design has been worked in gingham-lined terry and labeled "Sun Serape." It has no hood.

For mother, buy a coolie coat just long enough to cover a bathing suit. Black, coral, natural, turquoise, or red, for $6 in cotton. (Another $1.25 and you can have a coolie hat.)

The prize hats, however, are the ones from Mexico and Peru, made for mothers or very small daughters. The Zacaneta has a point on top of its crown with three long, bright ribbon streamers blowing from it like wind indicators.

Other streamers zoom out at each side. The Huasteca is as flat as a hat, you'll even see with broad brim and hardly any crown. The narrow edge of the crown has been looped with dark red felt ribbon. Hats are $3 and $4.

To take to the beach (and remember to bring home) Money Tree has a straw mat bound with cotton and patched with two blue elasticated pockets. You fold it all up and snap it together, and you have an easy carry-all with handle. $3.

For summer informality, Money Tree suggests nugs from Italy, Portugal, Japan and points east and west. Some have fruit or white, some are

It Grows on Trees

What grows on trees? Why, money, of course. Where you've been? The newest shop to exploit the well-known principle that where there's bud there's buck, is a place called The Money Tree on Alexander Street between Rosedale Lockers and John Oals' Garden Market.

To underscore its name, the shop has a golden money tree (so convenient to have a nursery right next door) from which will depend various items, according to the whim of the shop's owner, Laurie Vance Johnson. Jewelry, perhaps, or scarves or gift certificates when they are in season.

There is also a very small Money Tree on one of the green felt tables. When we saw it, tree was covered with money.

The new shop is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10-5.

deep glazed terra-cotta with glazed white lip, others are multi-color stripe. Give everybody a different one.

Cookies are stored these days in a birdcage cookie jar, a cookie castle, a round or oblong cookie house or a cookie grape arbor, all done in forthright shiny pottery with bright decorations. And speaking of the birdcage, you might like the $2 pottery birdhouse for a deserving wren. There is a glazed green or glazed bronze house, too, for $4.

On the clothing side, Money Tree has hand-crocheted straw skirts, great circular swoops of white or brown, made to be worn with scoopneck blouses in black or beige straw. Tommy-collared pongee blouses have short sleeves — wear them with the lined wrap-around skirt in raw silk or batik.

There's another wrap-around in patchwork madras, which ought to make anyone sit up and take notice. Plaid every which way. If you're more conservative (at least now and then), you'll choose an Italian lawn blouse, sleeveless, pastel, with round collar and horizontal tucks like shutters.

SHOE TIE

Another Part of the Forest. Having visited The Money Tree, we now go north to Palmer Square and the shop called the Nassau Shoe Tree, an establishment which also seems to be in full bloom.

Here we find such pleasures as the silk print pump with ladder high heel (tall ladder, that is) and an all-over spray of flowers in pink, orange, yellow. No one color predominates, which makes — Continued on Page 9

3,000 VOICES, STRONG AND CLEAR: Palmer Stadium, accustomed more to the cheer than to the prayerful song, was the scene on Sunday of a mass choir festival in which 3,000 singers from 33 choral participated. The choir, each robed in their own vestments, paraded into the stadium in colorful procession and then sang a brief program, joined by the audience in some of the better-known hymns. The Festival, sponsored by Westminster Choir College, drew more than 2,000 spectators. (Frederick Porter Pyle)

GLEE CLUB TO SING

For Houseparties Weekend, The Princeton University Glee Club will give its final concert of the season Friday from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m. in Alexander Hall. This concert, especially designed for Houseparties, will conclude a season of 16 appearances, among them a concert tour of Puerto Rico during Spring vacation. Features of the program will include a group of Broadway show tunes; the first Princeton performance of a set of three spirituals arranged by Walter Nollner, Glee Club conductor; and comic numbers by the so-called "Finsk University Song and Spy Society from Russia," whose highlight will be the rousing "Gung Bahk."

The full group will also be heard in compositions by Schubert, Ives and Moussorgsky. Other features will be Princeton University songs and the first local performance of the alma mater of the University of Puerto Rico, collected during the recent Spring vacation tour.

General admission to the concert is $1.50. Tickets are now on sale at the Princeton University Store and will also be sold at the Alexander Hall box office the night of the performance.

PIANO CONCERT SET

Robert Bailey To Play. Robert Bailey, graduate student in musicology at Princeton University, will give a piano concert Monday at 8:30 p.m. in Clo Hall Auditorium on the University campus. The concert, which is sponsored by Friends of Music at Princeton, is open to the public without charge.

Mr. Bailey, who has been assigned assistant in instruction in the Department of Music at Princeton for the next academic year, has selected Schumann's "Kreisleriana" as one of the featured works on his program. This rarely-performed work, which depicts Schumann at the peak of his creative powers, is comprised of eight fantasy pieces based on sections of E. T. A. Hoffmann's book, "Fantasiestücke in Callot's Manier."

Other works on the program will be the "French Suite No. 3 in G major," by Bach; the "Ballade No. 4 in F minor, Opus 52," and the "Barcarolle, Opus 60," by Chopin; and Schumann's "Toccata, Opus 7," considered one of the most difficult works in piano literature.

Mr. Bailey, who was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1959, was for three years the accompanist and featured soloist of the Dartmouth College Glee Club. Upon graduation, he won a scholarship from Dartmouth for piano study with Friedrich Wustke in Munich. He recently won critical acclaim for his performance of a Beethoven's "Fourth Piano Concerto" with the Flint Symphony Orchestra.

GOSSIP SONGS FEATURE

Of May 13 Concert. A gospel concert will be given Saturday, May 13, at 8:30 p.m. in McCarter Theatre. The concert will feature Clara Ward with the Ward Singers and the 100-voice choir from Newark under the direction of Professor Alex Bradford.

The seven Ward Singers, featuring Clara Ward, first gained national fame in 1943, when they sang at a Baptist convention. They have since toured throughout the United States and Europe. In appearances ranging from backwoods revival meetings to concerts at the London Palladium and Carnegie Hall, New York. Especially well-known are their annual concerts at Convention Hall, Philadelphia, and their performance at the Newport Jazz Festival in 1957.

Professor Alex Bradford's 100-voice choir was organized last February in Newark. This will be the choir's first major appearance since its organization, but it has already been booked for appearances throughout the east and mid-west for this Spring and Summer. Included will be a concert in July at the Polo Grounds in New York.

Tickets to the Princeton concert may be obtained by writing McCarter Theatre, Box 136, Princeton, or by calling 4-5590. Prices are $1.90 and $2.90.

NEW CHOIR TO SING

In Miller Chapel. The Theological Seminary's new Motet Choir will give a concert next Thursday, May 11, at 7:45 p.m. in Miller Chapel. Mrs. Janice Harsanyi, who formed and trained the polyphonic group of 30 mixed voices, will direct the concert. She is visiting lecturer of music at the Seminary. The program, which will resemble the present Lutheran service, will include Bach's Motet No. 3, "Jesu, Meine Freude," and the 29th Psalm by Schutz. David Kaminsky

Amateurs To Meet

Bach's "B minor Mass" will be performed by the Princeton Society of Musical Amateurs at its meeting Sunday at 5 p.m. at Miss Fine's School. Professor, Walter Nollner will conduct the orchestra.

Soloists will be: Thelma Young, Marjorie Holland, and Eleanor Holly, sopranos; Barbara Hilbish, contralto; Robert Holland, tenor, and Woodward Waesche, bass. The meeting is open to the public. Those planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. MacKenzie Bryan at WA 4-0453 before Friday.

RECITALS SCHEDULED

By New School for Music. Two piano recitals and class demonstrations have been scheduled for this weekend by the New School for Music Study. The programs, to be held in the recital hall of the New School building, 333 Nassau Street, are open to the public.

A group of fourth and fifth graders who started piano study last Fall will give a demonstration of typical class activities in a program Saturday at 4 p.m. The other program, to be held Sunday at 7 p.m., will be a recital of solo and ensemble music by students from 7 to 16 years old, ranging—Continued on Page 9 the shoe a masterful stroke with any solid color dress $19.95 by De Lino Deh. There is a match-made silk print with flowers in shades of beige and bronze.

A sleek spectator is bound with narrow tan, and tapered off with a toe divided half and half in tan and brown. The high heel is all brown. Another spec. is pure white with a perforated strip across the toe to provide the spectator look. Heel is medium on this one. A squared toe spectator has a squared vamp to match. The heel is medium.

Selly Arch Support is a shoe for women who may well have to walk. It comes in a grained calf, natural color, natural walking heel with brown trim, and also in a dress shoe with a moderate heel and a rounded toe. A bow on the instep adds dash. In white, this shoe is $18.95 with a stacked brown walking heel.

When it's really hot, you'll want Shoe Tree's straw with cork waffle heel and leather vamp following the instep. It's called "Soda Cooler." "Town Topic" is the name of a bare calf wedgie with stitched vamp. "Sunset Strip" is a white wedgie with two looped straps, sling heel and padded sole. If you're over the age of — well, let's say if you're in your teens, you'll like "Teen Hop," a skimmer in black or white, print lined, thin es as a 15-year-old and gay as a juke box. Although of course there's "Flower Pot," a black straw with low wedge heel and an insouciant colored pompon on the toe.

Bacs at The Shoe Tree are as big as Palmer Square itself. Here's a black straw trimmed with patent, the shape of a man's lunchbox and twice the size, a straw and leather (well — almost leather) satchel bag big enough to put your new shoes in ($19.95) and a bone colored burlap, also trimmed with "leather," that has two zipper compartments and enough cubic inches to qualify as an overnight bag (now that the nights are shorter, anyway).

SAUCEPAN REDUCED

Price, Not Size. Coming offers, until May 13, a one-quart saucepan in that handsome white pyroceram with blue flowers, at $2.88 instead of $3.95. Glass cover, too. Urken's says "Take advantage."

Also at Urken's, we found Scott's Zephyr, a spray gun with a long, Mariandine nozzle spooned at the end to spray the dust under the leaves where the little creatures are. Costs $14.95, but is solid and superbly designed. With it, use Boon to chase away mosquitoes, flies, chiggers, bag worms, ants, fleas and spider mites, or Haze for whatever is on your roses. The screw-top can fits on the nozzle.

Hungry plants will welcome Ross' root feeder which you attach to your garden hose. Into the feeder you put one of three cartridges: 10-20-20 for evergreens, 15-20-10 for roses, 9-16-15 for transplants. Then turn on the hose, jab the feeder into the ground and there you are. (Better reverse that process, now that we think of it.)

Or, you can buy a plastic bottle to fasten to your hose if you want to dilute your feeder. Set the dial on the bottle to "1 ton, per gallon," or whatever, and the control will dilute the contents of the bottle with the water from the hose.

The Witherspoon corner after Borough officials had assured them that, although some of the land might be required for the proposed realignment of Jackson, there was no indication that this would interfere with the new office building.

Adlerman and Click state that they conferred at some length with Mr. Brokaw, with Borough attorney John F. McCarthy, Jr. and with Councilman Albert A. Austen in order to make sure that Urban Renewal "was limited in any possible effects on the property." After assurance from Borough officials, the real estate firm says, it proceeded to tear down the old house so that it could obtain the building permit to construct the new office building.

In a letter written on March 30, the company states in its brief, it was given written notice for the first time that the Borough wanted its property for public use. According to Adlerman and Click, Mayor and Council had met in mid-March and passed a resolution for the acquisition of the property for public use. The "public use," according to the firm, is not defined.

The complaint states that Adlerman and Click are entitled to a building permit, which the engineer refuses to issue. In addition to the show-cause order, the firm asks the court to declare Borough Council's resolution concerning the property null and void.

APARTMENTS PROPOSED
For West Windsor. A proposed construction of a garden-style apartment on 20 acres of land in West Windsor Township will be presented this Thursday before the township Zoning Board of Adjustment.

Stanley Fielder will ask the Board for a special permit to build the apartments on Penn-Lyle Road and Village Road West in Dutch Neck. The property is known as the Green-Tyler Farm. Mr. Fielder wants to build one and two-bedroom units in the center of the 20-acre plot. There is no suitable housing now in West Windsor.

Brand new wedding gowns, leading manufacturers' samples, retailing up to $300. Sold from $39 to $59. Latest styles as shown in brides magazines and best shops. All perfect dresses. Many beautiful designer's originals at 1/2 c retail price in this new LOWEST COLLECTION OF BRIDALS. Also latest Bridesmaid's gowns, dock tail gowns and formal. Wonderful opportunity for bride-to-be. NUMEROUS SATISFIED CUSTOMERS. By appointment evenings and Saturdays. Phone.

According to the new West Windsor zoning ordinance, multiple housing is permitted anywhere except in a "village residential" area. The Fielder project would be in a "rural" area and therefore does not need a variance, however, the ordinance requires a special permit from the zoning Board.

At the last meeting of the West Windsor Planning Board, Board Residents of the township told the Board they were afraid that the Sands company would use the model, not just as samples of development homes, but as offices in which to conduct business connected with distant developments. The area has been zoned "village-residential".

WILL EJECT OFFICERS
At Next Jaycee Meeting. New officers for the coming term will be elected at the next monthly meeting of the Princeton Jaycees to be held May 18 at 8:30 in the Campus Center of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

John Lasley of Cherry Valley Road has been appointed Jaycee representative to the newly formed Youth Employment Service. The group won the "Roll the Barrel" contest on inter-chapter visitation and received a cash prize of $43.00. Jaycees have passed a resolution supporting the Peace Corps program and urging all clubs chapters to give their support.

DEAR TRAVELEX,

From our old pals on the Sea Safari we hear: "After putting our big toe into the frigid South Atlantic from the beach at Clifton, we went away. We loved the Bermuda-like climate of this suburb of Cape Town but after all—we wanted to stay with the ship!

Our next stop was Durban—still in the Union of South Africa; then Lawrence Marques, Zanzibar, Mombassa, Djibouti, through the Suez Canal (the toll for our ship was $15,000) to Alexandria. Holy cow what nights we saw! The SPHINX, the PYRAMIDS and Adonis Ababa, Ethiopia's Capital. O M'gosh. We even hunted BIG game!!

Now that we're up in the Mediterranean we'll stop at Messina and Naples, Barcelona and Lisbon. They say we'll see Capri, Positano, Rome, the Monastery of Montserrat and Our Lady of Fatima on the agenda! We can hardly wait! We'll land in New York on May 10 and we'll be anxious to get home, too. But Ooooh what a cruise!!!"

As ever, Nancy

 Democratic Forum will be held next Thursday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. A panel will discuss the role of political organizations in public affairs. On the panel will be two Princeton residents, Donald R. Herzberg and William W. Marvel. Mr. Herzberg is director of the Englewood Institute of Politics. Mr. Marvel, a member of Township Committee, is executive associate of the Carnegie Foundation and chairman of the State Department's task force on education in South America.

ARTS FESTIVAL SET
 For Final PTA Meeting
 Next Tuesday evening at 8, an arts festival will be held in the Witherspoon School auditorium under the auspices of the Borough Elementary Schools PTA. This will be the final PTA meeting for the year. On the program will be the Witherspoon orchestra and band, under the direction of Sylvan Friedman. Mrs. Joachim Parrella will lead the 125-voice Witherspoon Glee Club. Children's art from the Witherspoon and Nassau Street Schools will be on exhibit.

CONCERT PLANNED
 By Valley Road Students
 The annual singing by Valley Road students will be held this Friday at 8 p.m. in the schools' auditorium. Singing groups will include the girls' choir, the boys' choir and the boys' quartet. With Joerga Nickles to give a solo. Mrs. Edith Jeffries is director of vocal music. The hand, "pop" band and orchestra will play under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Scottlen. Pamela Pearson will play a solo on the French horn.

NEW PROGRAM OFFERED
 At Choir College
 Westminster Choir College has announced a new degree program in music education, which will begin this September under the direction of Dr. Edward F.J. Eicher, newly appointed professor of music education. The announcement was made Saturday at a meeting of the New Jersey Music Educators Association held at the college. Dr. Eicher holds a doctorate in music education from Columbia and a master of arts in education and professional diploma in music education, also from Columbia. At present, Dr. Eicher is supervisor of music for the board of education at Westwood.

Question of the Week

Question: What is the best book you have read in the past 12 months?

Where asked: Bryn Mawr Book Sale, Chambers Street.

Wayne H. Phelps, Graduate College graduate student, English: "The Jacobean Drama" by Una Ellis-Fermor. "T's is a vivid portrayal of the development of English drama during one of the most important centuries in English literature. It represents a painstaking piece of scholarship. Its five substantial volumes are readable by the layman and worth the unrelenting attention of anyone interested in Shakespeare's followers in the drama.

Ulrich Knoefmacher, 219-D Halsey Street, graduate student, English: "A Study in Provincial Life" by Marian Evans. It is a good account of the difficulties of a 19th century physician in a provincial town.

Mrs. Marjorie French, Main Street, Lawrenceville, a librarian at ETS: I guess I guess one of the books by C.P. Snow. He's discussing a situation that exists and that is very important in today's life. That is, the relationship between the scientific and humanistic fields, whether or not the emphasis of education should be placed in the scientific or humanistic area and the problem of communication between the two.

Herbert McAneny, 67 Grove Avenue, teacher, Country Day School: "King of Bright Water" by Gavin Maxwell. A beautifully written book about a man who has an other for a pet.

Mrs. David Porter, 218-C Eisenhower Street, housewife: "Barchester Towers" by Anthony Trollope. It has such a keen and, at the same time, genial wit. There is a great sense of humanity about Trollope.

Carl Altman, 14 Constable Road, Franklin Park, research engineer: I would say Will Durant's "Caesar and Christ." It gave me a deep appreciation of the Romans' political accomplishments and the state of civilization they had achieved. I also felt that many of the political problems facing us today — their analogues could be found in Roman times.

Mrs. Robert Danielson, 13 S. Stanworth Drive, housewife: I'd say Rostow's "Stages of Economic Growth in Underdeveloped Countries." I think it is the 'key' to so many of the problems going on in the world today.

Paul B. Niederlich, 213 Snowdon Lane, research division of ETS: One which comes readily to mind is the translation of the Bible by Monsignor Ronald Knox, an English writer and distinguished theologian who possesses a keen sense of humor. It is the first Catholic translation of the Bible since the Douay version which was published about the same time as the King James version. I thought he did a magnificent job on the Epistles of St. Paul. He became a believable figure to me in more than any translation I have read.

Mrs. Edward F. D'Annunzio, 440 Kingston Road, housewife: C.P. Snow's "Science and Government," because the problems which Sir Charles poses in this book will have to be solved or the rest of our problems will no longer make any difference.

Thaddeus Longstreth, 112 Heathen Lane, architect: I think Oscar Morgenstern's most recent book, "Our National Defense." It's probably the most serious book today on the subject and I feel it is very important to our defense posture. It's very topical. I think that the administration in Washington is very competent of what he says. He is a well-known Princeton author and is connected with and consulted by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Miss Sue Goldberg, New York City, personnel division of ETS: "Journey to Java" by Sir Harold Nicholson. I like the way he writes and what he says about people. This book contains his personal reminiscences of a trip he took to celebrate his 70th birthday.

Thomas E. MacAdam, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction, Princeton theological student: "Exodus" for fiction. It dealt with a contemporary subject but nevertheless captured the spirit of the people who tried to make a nation out of Israel. It's a controversial book. Even a lot of people from Israel claim it isn't quite as accurate a picture of Israel as it could be.

Mrs. Arthur Sathianay, 41 University Place, housewife: "The Arts and Craft of Drawing" by Verdon Blake. The author is not only an artist himself but he is familiar with and uses textual examples of great art of both the East and West. He really knows what he is talking about.

Robert Karkhahand, 169 Galbreath Drive, teacher, Westminster Choir College: "The Christian Teacher" by Levere. It was read for a specific purpose, as I was considering teaching at the time. The book contained ideas for teaching, approaches, concepts and dealt with specific teaching situations. The whole point of the book was a Christian approach to teaching, using Christian ethics.

Mrs. Keith Robertson, Book-noll Farm, Hopewell, book seller: "The Waning of the Middle Ages" by a French writer who has been translated. It is a very good picture of explanation of the Middle Ages. It portrays the mentality, the spirit and the minds of the people of the time.

Edward Chydesdale, Oakdale Village, New Brunswick, student: I think "The Meaning of

People" by Paul Tourneur, felt the book dealt with a facet of our life we overlook too often. We're so involved with machines, clubs, and keeping busy in general that we don't have time really to deal with people as people. The whole idea of the book was to present people as they really are instead of their everyday facades.

Mark Stavig, 225-D King Street, Graduate student, English, "The Plays of John Ford." Since I've been working on them for the last few months as the topic of my dissertation, I feel almost morally obligated to call them the best works I've read in the past year. However, I reserve the right to change my mind.

Report from THE MAYOR

Schedule Change The regular weekly "Tell It to the Mayor!" sessions will be held on Friday, May 5, Friday, May 12, and Friday, May 19, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

The Mayor has had to change this week's session from the previously announced Thursday evening. On that day, May 4, the New Jersey Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations has insisted that the Princeton Mayor participate in their annual meeting at Montclair State College. The word of the year-long efforts of the Princeton community in support of UN work resulted in the urgent request for participation in the state-wide meeting.

Ambassador And More: Meanwhile, Princeton's international visitors continue in increasing numbers. The Mayor's guest on Friday and Saturday was Dr. Andre Akakpo, the representative from the Republic of Togo.

Dr. Akakpo is Ambassador to the United States and to the United Nations from his nation. He is a physician and surgeon, trained in Paris. He was until last week a member of his country's national assembly.

He is Mayor of Lome, the capital city of Togo. He plans to bring Mrs. Akakpo and their five young children to the U.S. in June. On Friday evening, the Ambassador was confronted by a recreation crowd-full of typical Princeton teenagers. He practiced his English in talking with them, and he insisted successfully that they use their French in reply.

It was great fun. And the latest teenage record favorited don't seem to offend his musical taste, perhaps proving his diplomatic qualities.

Fourteenth Festival: In ceremonial dress, Ambassador Akakpo formally opened the YWCA's 14th annual International Festival on Saturday. This has become another Princeton tradition, and the various exhibits were most impressive. A steady stream of visitors enjoyed the authentic sample of the ways of many nations around the world.

On Sunday afternoon, the many foreign students in Princeton were entertained at luncheon at the Festival. Elsewhere, the town was bustling with visitors to many important meetings and events, including the impressive massed choirs in Palmer Stadium, an ambitious project undertaken by Westminster Choir College alumni and staff.

Play Ball: On Monday evening, just before Council's agenda session, the Mayor threw out the first ball for Princeton's Midget League.

On hand were the retiring league Commissioner, B. E. Bergeson, who has served for ten years in this volunteer post, and his successor Robert C. Decker. The players, 10 to 12 years of age, seemed anxious to get the season underway, but a mist turning rapidly to rain was trying its best to dissuade them.

Brush Up: Clear-up week has come and gone, but Borough Council would like to remind property owners that the brush piled between sidewalks and curb in various parts of town cannot be picked up by Borough forces. The proper place for this is the Borough dump (or more properly "sanitary land fill.")

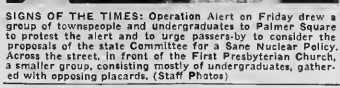

There it can legally be burned. Pride in Princeton would call for cooperation in removing these piles of debris at a time when our town is trying to put its best spring-time foot forward.

One Penny Less: The Borough was notified by the County tax board that its 1961 of fiscal tax rate will be $6.37 per hundred dollars of assessed valuation. This is one penny less than had been anticipated.

The Borough Collector has asked that we remind those who forgot that May 1 was the due date for Borough taxes. Prompt payment avoids the 4 per cent interest penalty that we must charge by law.

PRIZE SONGS ANNOUNCED

In Music Contest, Judges have announced the winners in the Songwriting Contest of 1961, sponsored by the Music Study Group for children in Princeton's schools.

Pamela Aall of Miss Fine's School, won first prize in the fifth grade and Rachel Kurshan of Littlebrook, second prize. Honorable mention went to Sophia Godfrey of Miss Fine's.

In the sixth grade, Frazer Lively of Quarry Street won first prize and Barbara Greenblatt of Littlebrook, second. Diane Rubin of Miss Fine's was given honorable mention.

No awards were made in seventh and eighth grades because there were not enough entries; however, a special honorable mention was given to Claudia Rost, Valley Road Schools.

In the special class of songs with accompaniments or two voices, Tony Ackerman, fifth grader at Riverside School, won first prize and Dottie Pettit, fifth grader at Nassau Street, won second prize. Anne Hinsdale, sixth grader at Riverside, won honorable mention. A special Judges' Award was made to Iris Boudart of Miss Fine's for a song which did not fit the regular grade classifications.

Judges were Mrs. Frank Wendt, Mrs. Joseph Kelsall, Miss Katherine Lyons and Mrs. E.G. Weaver.

'CRUCIAL CONTEST' LOOMS
With Harvard in Lacrosse. An action-packed lacrosse game is assured Saturday when Princeton plays Harvard, chief pretender to the Ivy crown. The contest on Pos Field will start at 2:30 and there will be no admission charge.

The high-scoring Crimson has not played the tough opponents Princeton has, but it has shown a particularly steady attack in rolling to an 11-0 record. Included are one-sided victories over Cornell and Penn in Ivy action.

Dave Bohn, the nation's highest scorer in 1960, is joining the Harvard attack, with Grady Watts, who led in assists, also on hand again to give the Caribs a solid punch. Their respective totals were 51 and 67, while the team record last year was a fine 12-3-1.

That lone deadlock was an 11-1 tie with Princeton and

It cost the Crimson a share in the title. Yale knocked off Harvard in their meeting and when Ferris Thomson's ten won its other four games, it took the league title for the fifth year in a row.

Dartmouth Trounced. Off its victory over Cornell, Dartmouth was figured to give Princeton a close battle Saturday but the Tigers sailed by the Green, 17 to 5. The Orange and Black had a 9-0 lead at the intermission and was in front by 15-0 before the visitors managed to score.

Princeton's first goal was registered at 2:02 of the opening round, and before the afternoon had ended, 13 players took part in the victors' scoring. Goalie Cookie Krongard turned in a fine performance in the Princeton net, with the Tiger defense dominating play whenever the Green sought to move into opposition territory.

A contest with Penn, perennial cellar-dweller, is on the schedule at Philadelphia next Wednesday. Another "crucial contest" with Yale at New Haven will take place a week from Saturday, and will be the last big hurdle toward a fifth straight title. Cornell at Ithaca on May 20 will close out the schedule.

DEFENSE CRUMBLES

As Nine Yields 21 Runs. One-sided Eastern League victories were recorded during the past week by Columbia and Dartmouth at the expense of the Princeton baseball team. The opposition took full advantage of the Tigers' outrageous pitching weakness as the Lions won, 15-3, and Dartmouth triumphed, 11-4.

New York University will play here this Thursday afternoon at 4, with Army's Eastern League champions on the broad jump, hammer and hand Saturday. The latter game will begin at 1 on the new diamond east of Palmer Stadium.

Wally Phillips, the Tigers' only hope for an occasional victory, was hammered at Dartmouth Saturday, giving 11 hits and seven runs before he was replaced by Tom Adams. The latter yielded four more tallies in the lone inning he worked.

The weather was miserable for the second Saturday in a row, but the Princeton defense committed only one error despite steady rain. The Tigers got away to a two-run lead in their half of the first, but Dartmouth promptly drew even and took over in the later innings. The losers collected a dozen hits but Dartmouth's 14 blows were good for 23 bases and the ball game.

TRACK MEET WITH YALE

In Stadium at 2. The third big event of the weekend, which will be marked by Dartmouth's annual house parties, is the track meet in Palmer Stadium against Yale. Despite the steady improvement of Coach Pete Morgan's forces, Yale is heavily favored.

At Cambridge last Saturday, rain and cold marked Harvard's 84-53 victory over the Tigers as the Crimson swept Eastern League champions on the broad jump, hammer and shot for 27 points and saw Mitchell topped 13 feet in the Princeton won the Heptagonal Tom Blodgett total 18 points personally in the hurdles and mile conditions and Princeton won the mile relay. "FIRST TIME IN FIFTEEN YEARS that we've scored in the Relays that I can remember." This comment from Princeton High School track coach Win Niles on the third place capture by John Beninger, Tom Harvey, Lamont Fletcher and Bill Lewis in their heat at the annual Penn Relays Saturday at Philadelphia. In its best, the PHS quartet completed against 12 other teams, matched by school size and coming from as far away as Massachusetts and Washington. D. C. Co-captain Fletcher's Starzond quarter crowned the Blue and White's effort. (Staff Photo.)

In Compton Cup Race. For the first time in a decade, the Compton Cup is likely to be won by Massachusetts (Institute of Technology, rather than Harvard or Princeton). The Engineers defeated Yale last week for the first time since 1850, and with both the Crimson and the Tigers below par this season, are favored to win this Saturday on the Charles River at Cambridge. Dartmouth will be an added starter.

On the Schoollin River at Philadelphia Saturday, Pennsylvania won the Childs Cup for the fourth straight year, defeating Princeton and Columbia. The inexperienced Tigers, whose personnel was shuffled after the Navy race, gave Penn a stiff battle, finally succumbing by a third of a length.

The Quaker Jayvees and freshmen also won to sweep the river. At Ithaca, the same fate befell the 100th, crews which all lost to Cornell. The Wood-Hammond Cup will be at stake Saturday when the Gillies row Penn at Philadelphia, with Harvard an added state.

TIGER HOPES HIGH

In Golf and Tennis, a Princeton golf team which has gone to all opposition since losing two early-season matches in the south will take on Yale at New Haven Saturday. A Tiger triumph will be in the nature of an upset, since home-course advantages are so strong. Last weekend, Army became Princeton's 10th straight victor as Coach Harry Kinnel's players won at West Point, 5 to 2.

Brown and Harvard will be here Friday and Saturday to provide Coach John Conroy's tennis team with Eastern Association opposition. This Princeton outfit is also uncertain since its southern trip, having knuckled off six straight opponents in hardsy fashion.

Costly errors caused the Blue and White to lose its first two games by one run. The hitters took over in the third and PHS erupted on the short end of a 15-11 score. The defeat was administered by Trenton High School Thursday on the Tonnadons' home diamond.

Error Costly. An error on a third strike that would have retired the side opened the way for visiting Long Branch to score all its runs in the third inning and go on to heat the Little Tigers, 3-1. The game—Continued on Page 25

PHS TRACKMEN WIN
Race Ending Today, Easy winner in its last two dual meets, the Princeton High School track team will play host to Ewing High School Friday afternoon at Har's Field.
Wednesday, the Blue and White travels to clash with always-tough Highland Park.

Twenty-one PHS cindermen placed as the Little Tigers notched a 74-23—42-13 victory, the second straight, over Hamilton High Friday. "The victors were never pleased, despite the fact that PHS co-captain Lamont Fletcher, consistent winner in the high and low hurdles and broad jump, did not compete. The leading point-getter for the Blue and White is suffering a hamstring pull in his right leg."

Meet performances and times were held down by a brisk, cool wind. Double winners for Princeton were generated by Tom Bogie, who took first in the 100 and 220, and by Howard Gould with top honors in the shot put and discus. Co-captain Joe Beach-ell continued his dominance in the javelin, winning handily with a 179-foot toss.

Long Branch Tapped.
The Little Tigers won their first dual meet of the season last week by defeating Long Branch, 77 to 40. "The winners took 11 of 13 events."

Fletcher scored 15 points, coming in first in the high and low hurdles and the broad jump. Gould added 10 more by winning the shot and discus.
Other winners were John Bensinger, Beachell, Bogie and Dick Bedford. Dick Montgomery and Bob Harrison tied for first in the pole vault.

HUNTINGTON WINS
As Bernard Takes 3 Firsts, Tom Huntington won the Carnegie Sailing Club regatta Sunday afternoon on Lake Cayuga with a cumulative total of 65 points.

Three of the races were won by John Bernard, with Hun-dington, Walt Foster, Phil Holt and Reeves Hicks finishing first in the others. Point totals for the top five included Foster, 59.5; Bernard, 58.4; Holt, 56.6; and Hicks, 48.

HOME GAMES SCHEDULED
For Four Lawrenceville Teams, Lawrenceville-School's baseball, golf and tennis teams will take on Ridgewood High School in home contests this Saturday. The track team will play host to St. Benedict's in a 2:30 p.m. meet. The baseball game and tennis match will also begin at 2:30, while the golf match will start at 2.
Next Wednesday at 2:30, the baseball team will play George School and the tennis team will face the Princeton University freshmen. The Red and Black trackmen will take on Princeton freshmen at Princeton, while the golf team will travel to Flightstown for a match with Peddie.

Lawrenceville's baseball team scored its fifth straight victory without a loss last Wednesday, downing the Lehigh freshmen, 4-3. The Larries broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh frame when Dick Marshall walked and then scored on a wild pitch. Saturday's game with St. Benedict's at Newark was cancelled by inclement weather.

Lawrenceville's mile relay team took second place in the prep school championships of the 67th annual Penn Relays
at Philadelphia's Franklin Field last Saturday. Richard Johnson, Eliot Jump, William Pfeifer and John Gardner made up the Larrie team which finished 20 yards behind winning St. Benedict's.

Lawrenceville's 1 a c r o s s e team ran its season mark to 2-1 with victories over the Hun School last Wednesday and Peddie on Saturday. Hun succeeded by a 5-2 margin, while the Larries downed Peddie, 8-4.

The golf team beat Princeton University freshmen, 5-1-15, last Wednesday and scored a 6-1 victory over the University of Pennsylvania freshmen on Saturday. The team now has a 3-2 record.

The tennis team beat Blair Academy, 6-3, on Wednesday and then lost to Choate School by a one-sided score on Saturday. It has a 2-2 record.

BOWLING NOTES

Hectic Final Weeks Set. As the winter bowling season draws to a close in Princeton, several league championships remain in doubt as tight races continue. To highlight the action, Leagues Motors No. 2 and Yeoman's were tied at 72 points each in the "A" loop, with only two weeks remaining. This will be the last regular week of bowling, then the two teams meet on the "bumper" night to determine the champion.

In the "B" League, Prince Laundro (72) held a two-game margin over Sportmen No. 2 with only two weeks of bowling remaining. And Applegate Floral Shop (62) was only two points ahead of Craft Cleaners in the Women's League. Only Nassau Del, in the Industrial loop, had a comfortable margin, leading the Crescents (42) by 13 points.

Kingston became the undisputed champion of the Tri-County Fireman's League, by edging Hook and Ladder "H"
(60) by two to win both halves of the season. In the Mixed League, Mike Zeccola and

NEW HOME FOR NASSAU SAVINGS? Artist's sketch shows office building which Nassau Savings & Loan Association proposes to construct in residential zone at 19 Vandeventer Avenue, provided zoning variance is granted. Building will front an Vandeventer, with parking area in rear entered from Park Place. Perch on front has been eliminated to conform with front-yard zoning requirements.

BUSINESS In Princeton

Conflict in Borough. The conflict between Princeton Borough's present zoning ordinance and those suggested in the proposed new Master Plan was brought into sharp focus at last week's meeting of the Borough Zoning Board, when Nassau Savings & Loan Association requested permission to construct an office building at 19 Vandeventer Avenue.

Under the Borough's present zoning regulations, this would be a non-conforming use, since Vandeventer Avenue is in a residential zone. However, the proposed Master Plan, now under consideration by the Borough Planning Board, suggests that Vandeventer Avenue become part of the central business zone.

Nassau Savings & Loan's request thus became the basis for a tense two-and-a-half-hour hearing, centered around the character of the Zoning Board's responsibilities. Should the board take the Master Plan provisions into consideration when making present decisions should it abide strictly by current zoning?

The case for the Master Plan was pleaded by Gordon D. Griffin, attorney representing Nassau Savings & Loan, with the opposite view argued by J. Seymour Montgomery, attorney representing Mr. and Mrs. Leonard LaPlaca of 28 Vandeventer Avenue, who opposed the proposed office building. Following the public hearing and a closed executive session, Frank W. Hubby, 3rd, Zoning Board chairman, announced that the board wanted more time to consider the problem and would not give its decision until the next meeting, scheduled for May 25.

Master Plan Cited. In summing up his case, Mr. Griffin said that the Zoning Board would show foresight in granting Nassau Savings & Loan's request, because the central business district needs to be expanded. He then cited the general development plan of the Master Plan, which suggests that the business district be enlarged to cover the entire area between Nassau and Wiggins and between Bank and Monte Streets.

The fact that the Master Plan makes this suggestion, Mr. Griffin said, is an indication that something must be done about the needs of the business district. "In order to assure the economic survival of Princeton," the building proposed by Nassau Savings & Loan, he added, would fit into the residential area during the transitional period and would help in setting the trend for future business construction.

Arguing against this reasoning, Mr. Montgomery said that it was "not up to the Zoning Board to amend the zoning ordinance or to attempt to do so by granting a variance." Regardless of any deficiencies in the present zoning, he stated, the function of the Zoning Board is "to administer the present zoning law."

"Mr. Griffin has been very persuasive in asking this board to perform the function of the mayor and council," Mr. Montgomery said, adding that "we don't even know whether the Master Plan will be adopted."

Option Until October. Nassau Savings & Loan has a contract with H. G. Houghton, owner of the 19 Vandeventer Avenue site, to purchase the property at a cost of $52,500, providing a zoning variance is granted. If the variance is not granted by October, 1961, the contract will become void.

Walter B. Foster, Jr., secretary of Nassau Savings & Loan, appeared before the Borough Planning Board at its April 4 meeting to explain the situation and to ask if the Master Plan were likely to be adopted by October. Martin LaBeck, Planning Board chairman, replied that the case for adoption of the new plan was uncertain, and Nassau Savings then decided to apply for a zoning variance.

In the interim, representatives of Nassau Savings circulated a petition approving the proposed new building among owners of property within 200 feet. A total of 17 out of 35 property owners in the residential zone signed the petition.

Those appearing in opposition to the plans, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. LaPlaca, included Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Perrine, 22 Vandeventer; Mrs. C. Sincereaux, 30 Vandeventer; and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brook, 31 Vandeventer. A letter of opposition was also received from Miss Lillian T. Reardon, 39 Vandeventer.

Colonial Design Planned. The building which Nassau Savings & Loan proposes to construct would be a two-story structure of Colonial design. The association would occupy the first floor and there would be office space on the second floor. Expected to cost about $125,000, the building would be 45 feet wide along Vandeventer, 25 feet high, and 60 feet deep.

The building would be located near Vandeventer Avenue, with a large parking lot in the rear, accessible from Park Place. A drive-in banking window, located on the side away from Park Place, would be reached by going through the parking lot and out past the building to Vandeventer Avenue.

NEW PLANT BUILT For Metal Company. A new industrial plant has joined the Route One industrial complex. Porter-Mathews, manufacturers of metal products, containers, small animal cages and laboratory equipment, has begun the construction of a plant on the west side of Route One south of Ridge Road.

The site, which has a frontage of 490 feet, will accommodate a plant area of 23,124 square feet and office space of 52 by 55 feet. A covered walkway will connect offices and plant. Henry Jandi and Richard Chorlton are the architects and S. J. Peterson and Co., of Princeton, are the builders.

Approximately 30 persons will be employed in plant and offices. The company makes

SCHOOL AID OPPOSED

By Presbytery. A resolution opposing "the use of public funds for the support of any religious, sectarian or parochial private schools" has been adopted by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, which includes all Princeton Presbyterian churches. The resolution was presented as a part of a report by the Presbytery's Christian Education Committee, which is needed by the CONFIRMATION TIME: The Sacrament of Confirmation was administered in April to 212 children and adults at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church. The Most Reverend James J. Hogan, J.C.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Trenton, administered the Sacrament. Here, in formal procession, are the Bishop, flanked by Father Joseph S. Keenan of St. Ann's, Trenton, and Father Joseph R. Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church and the Rev. Robert Good of Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church.

The resolution asserted that "such public aid to parochial schools would force citizens to organizations to which they cannot commit themselves." In adopting the resolution, the Presbytery reaffirmed the stand previously taken by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. The Rev. David L. Crawford, secretary of Princeton Theological Seminary, served as moderator of the Presbytery meeting.

following a brief illness. The husband of Mrs. Thanie M. Huganoff Hoffman, he was a foreman of the Quality Machine and Tool Company. He was a member of the Arbeiter Sozialer Union, the Pennington Fire Company. He served as treasurer for the Fire Company for seven years.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Hoffman of Pennington; three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Winkler and Mrs. Katherine Kramm; and a daughter, Mrs. Marie Harding of Sagreville; and two brothers, Henry P. Hoffman of Trenton, and John P. Hoffman of Pennington.

The Rev. James W. Marshall of the Pennington Methodist Church officiated at the funeral, held in Pennington. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Trenton.

Louis Carson, 70, of Hill Acres Road, Cranbury, died May 1 at his home. A resident of the Cranbury area for 40 years, he was born in Roselle and was a retired fireman. He belonged to Apple Lodge 158, F & AM; Trenton Forest 4, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Scotch Rite and Crescent Temple.

The husband of Mrs. Ethel Groendyke Carson, he is also survived by two sons, Martin S. Carson and Stanley W. Carson; a daughter, Mrs. William J. Jr., all of Cranbury; a sister, Mrs. William J. Leigh of Trenton; and eight grandchildren.

The service will be conducted by the Rev. Roger Kvan of the Cranbury Presbyterian Church, this Thursday afternoon at 2 at his home. Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Hightstown.

News Of The Churches

A community program of social work will be presented Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Calvary Baptist Church, under the direction of Ellen Hubbard. The program is open to the public.

Concluding lecture in the "Challenge to the Church" series at Princeton Theological Seminary will be given Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the Campus Center Auditorium. Speaker will be Curtis H. Gager, management consultant with Interpublic, Inc. of New York and former executive vice president of the Coca-Cola Company.

The Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church will hold a Business Mission meeting Monday at 8 p.m. Speaker will be the Rev. Don Lindquist, a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary who has just returned from three years as a Bible school teacher in the Congo.

The Link Marine expedition to Cascares Maritima and the Lake of Calilee, conducted last summer under the sponsorship of Princeton Theological Seminary and the American Israel Society, is the subject of an eight-page article in the May 5 issue of the "New York Times" magazine. Professor Charles T. Fritsch of Princeton Seminary was chief field archaeologist of the expedition. Artifacts discovered are now on display at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, and some will later become permanent possessions of the seminary.

REMEMBER MAMMA WITH A NEW HOUSE

IS SHE GROWING OLDER?—If your present house is suddenly a bit large and she finds it too much work, give her this adorable three bedroom, two bath ranch, with a cheerful fireplace in the living room and the family room. Here she will love the wonderful kitchen, $21,500.

DOES SHE NEED MORE PRIVACY? She will love the many places "to get away" in this four bedroom, two and one-half bath house. Nice living room, dining room, good kitchen, large family room with fireplace. Basement for extra activities. All the closets and storage in the right places. $21,400.

IS SHE TIRED OF RUNNING A TAXI for your children's many activities? Across from a fine grade school on nice shaded lot, this four bedroom, two and one-half bath house will seem like heaven. Extremely spacious and so well built that you will love it too. $24,500.

IS SHE CRAMPED FOR SPACE? This brick Johnson School area house is a wife's delight. Five marvelous bedrooms and three baths. Fine library, screened porch, a truly huge basement, great storage and fine room arrangement. $22,500.

DOES SHE LONG FOR SMALLER? NEVER HOUSE IN PRIME LOCATION—This is the exact answer. Shaded by age old trees, it has the flavor of the old but the convenience of the new. Nice first floor bedroom and bath, three other bedrooms and two baths. Truly charming living room with interesting fireplace, dining room, kitchen, and lavatory. Attic with storage closets, central air-conditioning. $73,000.
